Did you know that all of the beautiful fascinating horses in Kansas City are not at the American Royal? In fact, many are in the Nelson-Atkins Museum of Art and now the museum has created a tour featuring their equine paintings, their beautiful equine sculptures, their extraordinary tributes to the powerful and beautiful animals we know and love.

While you are in Kansas City for the horse show we want to offer you something special, something to make this a week to remember. In a spirit of collaboration the staff and volunteers at the museum will have both Guided and Self-guided tours ready for your delight and interest. The Nelson-Atkins, a significant and encyclopedic collection, is open Tuesday through Sunday and is free everyday. The museum is two blocks from the Plaza, an easy walk from Plaza hotels. Parking is convenient. You can visit between 10 and 5 weekdays...have lunch in the 15th century Italian-style of Rozelle Court, choose to browse the collection or concentrate on the Equine Tour...a gift to our Exhibitors from the Nelson-Atkins.

All the necessary information will be available to you when you arrive...in your exhibitors' packet.

Won't you celebrate the Artful Horse with us?
