Thank you for taking time to serve on the Beef Checkoff Council. This group will be responsible for overseeing the beef checkoff programs and budgets for the National and State Beef Checkoff programs in our state. Your role is vital to the success of the program, and you will be counted on by the staff to be a sounding board throughout the year.

This booklet will give you a guide to information about the National Beef Checkoff including our relationship with the Cattlemen’s Beef Board. The National Beef Checkoff ($1/head) dollars are used to extend the Beef. It’s What’s for Dinner. message through beef advertising, promotion, educating and research.

In Alabama, we are so fortunate to have the Alabama State Beef Checkoff ($1/head) as well which expands the efforts of our program to also include youth programs, production research and producer education programs.

The following pages will entail more details about the programs to prepare you for your role on this council. Alabama has a history of leading when it comes to beef promotion, and this council will continue that effort for the years to come. If you have any questions always know Erin and the staff are happy to assist you.

Sincerely,

Larry Reeves

BEEF CHECKOFF PROGRAM

HISTORY

Congress created the Beef Promotion and Research Act, the “Beef Checkoff,” with passage of the 1985 Farm Bill. Collections began on October 1, 1986; producers approved making the Beef Checkoff mandatory in 1988, with 79 percent voting in favor of it.

Producers asked that the checkoff program be built on these tenets:

- All producers and importers pay the equivalent of one dollar-per-head every time a beef animal is sold throughout its lifetime.

- State beef councils collect the dollar-per-head and must submit at least half of those assessments—50 cents of every dollar—to the Cattlemen’s Beef Board (CBB) for investment in the national checkoff program. Each state beef council determines how to invest the remaining 50 cents-per-head in approved state or national programs.

- All national checkoff-funded programs are budgeted and evaluated by the Cattlemen’s Beef Board, a stand-alone organization of checkoff-paying producer volunteers and importers that administers the Beef Checkoff.

- Cattlemen’s Beef Board members—beef, dairy and veal producers and importers—are nominated by producer organizations in their states and appointed by the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture.
Representation for your checkoff is more local than you might think

Did you know that the volunteers responsible for making decisions about your checkoff dollars at both the state and national levels are checkoff-paying, cattle farmers, ranchers and importers? By law, this structure is designed to ensure that producers at the ground level are responsible for directing, reviewing and approving expenditure of all checkoff dollars.

IT STARTS IN YOUR STATE
Your Qualified State Beef Council collects $1 on each head of cattle every time it’s sold. Fifty cents of that dollar goes directly to the Cattlemen’s Beef Board for national programs, and up to 50 cents is retained by your state beef council. (In the six states without state councils, assessments go directly to the CBB.)

Producers sitting on your state beef council board determine how to invest the remaining 50 cents-per-head in approved state, regional, national or international checkoff programs. States may opt to invest a portion of their 50 cents in national programs through participation in the Federation of State Beef Councils, made up of producers chosen by individual state beef councils.

The role of the Cattlemen’s Beef Board is to budget for and evaluate all national programs. 10 of these board members, along with 10 producers from the Federation of State Beef Councils, are elected by their peers to serve on the Beef Promotion Operating Committee, which is responsible for approving specific checkoff programs and contracting with national industry-governed organizations to implement them.

THE BOTTOM LINE
All checkoff oversight boards are comprised of producer and importer volunteers and, in all cases, include state representation.

COLOR KEY

Boards made up of producers responsible for watching over your investment
The programs you invest in

1Producers in the six states with no beef councils — Alaska, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire and Rhode Island — and all importers.
2States may invest a portion of their 50 cents in national programs through the Federation of State Beef Councils.
3The Beef Promotion Operating Committee has 10 members from the Cattlemen’s Beef Board and 10 members from Qualified State Beef Councils. By law, the Operating Committee must contract with national industry-governed organizations to administer checkoff programs. Some of the contractors include National Cattlemen’s Beef Association (NBCA), American Farm Bureau Foundation for Agriculture (AFBA), North American Meat Initiative (NAMI) and United States Cattlemen’s Association (USCA).
Where are your checkoff dollars invested?

PROMOTION
Includes advertising, merchandising, and new-product development, as well as training and promotional partnerships with restaurants and supermarkets that stimulate sales of beef and veal products.

RESEARCH
Provides the foundation for virtually all checkoff-funded information and promotion projects by providing the science related to beef nutrition, beef safety and pathogen resistance. The checkoff also invests in quality enhancement and new-product opportunities, as well as analysis of consumer trends, perceptions, and concerns about beef and the beef ranching and farming community.

CONSUMER INFORMATION
Helps enhance beef’s image by sharing nutritional data and other positive messages with targeted news media, food editors, dietitians, physicians and other individuals and groups who influence consumers’ food knowledge and choices.

INDUSTRY INFORMATION
Strives for an accurate understanding of the beef industry and helps maintain a positive cattle-marketing climate. Also provides factual information to correct misleading or inaccurate publicity about beef safety and environmental and animal-welfare issues.

FOREIGN MARKETING
Identifies and develops international markets for U.S. beef and beef variety meats through programs aimed at expanding market penetration, gaining new market access, improving global consumer perceptions and building trust in U.S. beef.

PRODUCER COMMUNICATIONS
Informs producers and importers about how their checkoff dollars are invested and communicates specific program results. This includes an annual report, informational advertising, coordination with beef and dairy industry media, direct communication with producers and a survey of producers about what they want and expect from their checkoff.

Questions and answers about your checkoff

WHAT CAN THE CHECKOFF DO?
The Beef Checkoff’s role is to drive demand for beef, both domestically and internationally, through a combination of initiatives, including consumer advertising, research, public relations and new-product development. To accomplish this, the checkoff acts as a catalyst for change and is designed to stimulate beef sales and consumption through a combination of these initiatives.

WHAT CAN’T THE CHECKOFF DO?
By law, checkoff funds cannot be used to influence government policy or action, including lobbying. The checkoff doesn’t own cattle, packing plants or retail outlets. It can’t control prices or single-handedly turn around a bad market.

DO PACKERS PAY?
Any packer who owns cattle for more than 10 days prior to harvest must pay the dollar-per-head checkoff on each animal. There are, however, no packer seats on the Cattlemen’s Beef Board.

DO IMPORTERS PAY?
Importers pay the dollar-per-head checkoff or the equivalent on imported cattle, beef and beef products, amounting to millions each year.

DO CONTRACTORS MAKE MONEY FROM THE CHECKOFF?
No. The Cattlemen’s Beef Board and USDA must approve all checkoff budgets and programs before any contractors are reimbursed for program costs on a cost recovery basis. Contractors pay program costs from their own organizational budgets, and then are reimbursed only for substantiated direct costs incurred in implementing approved checkoff programs.

For more about the checkoff, visit DrivingDemandForBeef.com or contact your state beef council.

How are State Checkoff Dollars Collected?
Cattle are sold and $1 per head is remitted for the State Beef Checkoff.

Collections are sent to the Alabama Department of Agriculture and Industries by auction markets.

Department of Agriculture and Industries sends request to Department of Finance and a check is sent to the Alabama Cattlemen’s Association for deposit in the State Beef Checkoff account.

How are State Checkoff Dollars Spent?
The dollars are used to pay for programs outlined in the Alabama Beef Checkoff Marketing Plan that include beef promotion, beef education, industry relations, producer education, youth programs and production research.

Who Provides Oversight to the State Beef Checkoff?
An annual audit is performed by Carr, Riggs and Ingram. The Executive Vice President also reports to the State Board of Agriculture & Industries with the audited financial review and an annual report of the programs completed using state beef checkoff dollars. Throughout the year, the Beef Checkoff Council oversees the programs funded by state checkoff dollars.

How Can Cattle Producers Get Involved?
Cattle producers are invited to contact the Alabama Cattlemen’s Association to voice comments or concerns regarding checkoff dollars. Each year, the Beef Checkoff Council and staff host a Checkoff Task Force Meeting where any cattle producer in the state of Alabama can attend to brainstorm ideas and offer input for use of checkoff dollars. The proposed marketing plan and budgets are then approved by the Beef Checkoff Council. A copy of the Alabama Beef Checkoff Marketing Plan is available online at www.BamaBeef.org/Checkoff.

###
General
The Association Code of Conduct (the code) requires directors, key volunteers, and employees to observe high standards of business and personal ethics in the conduct of their duties and responsibilities. Employees and representatives of the Association must practice honesty and integrity in fulfilling their responsibilities and comply with all applicable laws and regulations.

The objectives of the Whistle-Blower Policy are to establish policies and procedures for the following:
- The submission of concerns regarding questionable accounting or audit matters by employees, directors, officers, volunteers, and other stakeholders of the Association, on a confidential and anonymous basis
- The receipt, retention, and treatment of complaints received by the Association regarding accounting, internal controls, or auditing matters
- The protection of directors, volunteers, and employees reporting concerns from retaliatory actions

Reporting Responsibility
Each director, volunteer, and employee of Association has an obligation to report in accordance with this whistle-blower policy (a) questionable or improper accounting or auditing matters, and (b) violations and suspected violations of Association’s code (concerns).

Acting in Good Faith
Anyone reporting a concern must act in good faith and have reasonable grounds for believing the information disclosed indicates an improper accounting or auditing practice, or a violation of the code. The act of making allegations that prove to be unsubstantiated, and that prove to have been made maliciously, recklessly, or with the foreknowledge that the allegations are false, will be viewed as a serious disciplinary offense. It may also result in discipline, up to and including dismissal from the volunteer position or termination of employment. Such conduct may also give rise to other actions, including civil lawsuits.

Confidentiality
Reports of concerns, and investigation pertaining thereto, shall be kept confidential to the extent possible, consistent with the need to conduct an adequate investigation.

Disclosure of reports of concerns to individuals not involved in the investigation will be viewed as a serious disciplinary offense and may result in discipline, up to and including termination of employment. Such conduct may also give rise to other actions, including civil lawsuits.

Authority of Executive Committee
All reported concerns will be forwarded to the executive committee in accordance with the procedures set forth herein. The executive committee shall be responsible for investigating and making appropriate recommendations to the board of directors, with respect to all reported concerns.

No Retaliation
This whistle-blower policy is intended to encourage and enable directors, volunteers, and employees to raise concerns within the Association for investigation and appropriate action. With this goal in mind, no director, volunteer, or employee who, in good faith, reports a concern shall be subject to retaliation or, in the case of an employee, adverse employment consequences. Moreover, a volunteer or employee who retaliates against someone who has reported a concern in good faith is subject to discipline up to and including dismissal from the volunteer position or termination of employment.

Reporting Concerns

Encouragement of Reporting

The Association encourages complaints, reports, or inquiries about illegal practices or serious violations of the code, including illegal or improper conduct by the Association itself, by its leadership, or by others on its behalf. Appropriate subjects to raise under this policy would include financial improprieties, accounting or audit matters, ethical violations, or other similar illegal or improper practices or policies. Other subjects on which the Association has existing complaint mechanisms should be addressed under those mechanisms, such as raising matters of alleged discrimination or harassment through the Association’s human resources channels, unless those channels are themselves implicated in the wrongdoing. This policy is not intended to provide a means of appeal from outcomes in those other mechanisms.

Employees

Employees should first discuss their concern with their immediate supervisor. If, after speaking with his or her supervisor, the individual continues to have reasonable grounds to believe the concern is valid, the individual should report the concern to the director of human resources. However, if the individual is uncomfortable speaking with his or her supervisor, or the supervisor is a subject of the concern, the individual should report his or her concern directly to the director of human resources or a level above the supervisor. In addition, suspected fraud should be reported directly to the chair of the executive committee, who may be contacted by phone at (334) 470-0580 or by e-mail at.

If the concern was reported verbally to the director of human resources, the reporting individual, with assistance from the director of human resources, shall reduce the concern to writing. The director of human resources is required to promptly report the concern to the chair of the executive committee, which has specific and exclusive responsibility to investigate all concerns. If the director of human resources, for any reason, does not promptly forward the concern to the executive committee, the reporting individual should directly report the concern to the chair of the executive committee. Concerns may also be submitted anonymously. Such anonymous concerns should be in writing and sent directly to the chair of the executive committee.

Directors and Other Volunteers

Directors and other volunteers should submit concerns in writing directly to the chair of the executive committee.

Handling of Reported Violations

The executive committee shall address all reported concerns. The chair of the executive committee shall immediately notify the executive committee, the president, the CEO, and chief operating officer of any such report. The chair of the executive committee will notify the sender and acknowledge receipt of the concern within five business days, if possible. It will not be possible to acknowledge receipt of anonymously submitted concerns.

All reports will be promptly investigated by the executive committee, and appropriate corrective action will be recommended to the board of directors, if warranted by the investigation. In addition, action taken must include a conclusion or follow-up, or both, with the complainant for complete closure of the concern.

The executive committee has the authority to retain outside legal counsel, accountants, private investigators, or any other resource deemed necessary to conduct a full and complete investigation of the allegations.
