The Big E/West Springfield Trust Fund Grants Available
Applications Accepted through June 1

Applications for The Big E/West Springfield Trust Fund grants are now being accepted and all West Springfield organizations and agencies that benefit education, youth, the elderly and the quality of life in Town, are encouraged to apply. The application and information can be found on the Town’s website: https://www.townofwestspringfield.org/home/showdocument?id=7135. The deadline is June 1.

Eastern States recently made its annual donation to the trust, its largest ever, at $260,483. The donation represents 1% of ESE gross annual revenues for 2019. Contributions to the Fund, including this year’s gift, now total $4,496,906.

Each year, Fund trustees award a percentage of the donation to qualified applicants. Trustees Mayor William Reichelt, ESE President and CEO Eugene J. Cassidy and Attorney Mary Paier Powers hope to have a large and diverse pool of applicants for consideration.

Mayor Reichelt said, “We are grateful to the Exposition for maintaining this trust and for the growth it has seen as we share in the success of the Fair and other events. This is a unique opportunity that no other Massachusetts cities or towns have, to enhance worthwhile programs and make West Springfield a better place to live and work.”

He added, “I wholeheartedly encourage community organizations supporting our youth and families to apply for these funds.”

Cassidy stated, “The Exposition is honored to support its hometown and to have continually increased its donation to the fund over the past 25-plus years. I encourage each and every group that qualifies for the grant to apply – especially in this time of extraordinary need.”

In 2019, the Exposition donated $236,423 to The Big E/West Springfield Trust Fund and more than $77,720 in grants were given to 17 organizations:

- Boys & Girls Club for a security camera system
