New Committee Formed

In August, the City of Navasota Councilmembers and the Navasota ISD School Board met for a joint meeting. The idea of a new committee was discussed and formed. The committee is called the Navasota T.E.A.M which stands for Top-Notch Education and Municipal organization. The responsibility of this committee is to provide quality information about the City and school district to the public.

The twelve committee members are Brad Stafford, Dr. Stu Musick, Mayor Bert Miller, Chief Justin Leeth, Councilmember Josh Fultz, Johnny McNally, Casey Ellis, Yolanda Fultz, Mildred Edwards and School Board Members: Trisha Harris, Jennifer Ramirez and Amy Jarvis.

One of the first projects the committee is undertaking is "Where Are They Now?" This is an opportunity to recognize Navasota graduates on their success and accomplishments. This will be a weekly spotlight in the Navasota Examiner.
