

AQHA TOP RANCHING HERITAGE BRED HORSE

Award Information

The American Quarter Horse Association Ranching Heritage Breeder program spotlights the quality horses produced by AQHA Ranching Heritage Breeders. Ranching Heritage bred horses compete in a variety of competitions and disciplines.

The AQHA Top RHB Award recognizes horses at numerous events across the country, including the Colorado 4-H Horse Show. The owner of the overall highest placing horse Ranching Heritage bred horse in the ranch horse division receives $250 and a specially created ranch-horse trophy, and the Ranching Heritage Breeder also receives $250.

Award Guidelines:

- No formal entry is required
- The award can only be presented to a registered American Quarter Horse bred by an AQHA Ranching Heritage Breeder. To visit a list of breeders, go to aqha.com/ranching
- The horse must be in the current owner's name (4-H member, his/her parents (biological or stepparents), brother, sister, grandparents, or legal guardian)
- AQHA membership is not required though encouraged
- Horse's registered name and registration number listed on the entry form will be used to verify award eligibility
- Winner will be profiled on aqha.com/ranching
