

COW PALACE

Media Credential Policy

Working media is identified below as those media personnel who have obtained approved Cow Palace/ Grand National Livestock Exposition, Horse Show & Rodeo media credentials.

This policy is Necessary in Order to:

1. Accommodate working media quickly and efficiently.
2. Enable the media to enter the Cow Palace facility quickly.
3. Protect event patrons from being approached by representatives working on commercial projects or unauthorized projects who may present themselves as journalists to the public.
4. Assist Cow Palace personnel in quickly identifying reporters cleared for access and media privileges.
5. Screen out non-affiliated person seeking media privileges.

How to Request Media Credentials:

1. Email credential request to Lori Marshall, CEO at lmmarshall@cowpalace.com Request to include:

*Name	* Title	* Media Organization
*Phone Number	* Email address	* Mailing address
*Story of interest (if known)	*intended date of visit to event

NOTE: Media organization logos need to be provided in the request.

ALL REQUESTS MUST BE RECEIVED NO LATER THAN 48 HOURS PRIOR TO REQUEST TO BE ON SITE.

2. The email must indicate the names and titles of the staff planning to cover the event.

NOTE: Media credentials are for working media only, please.

3. Freelance reporters and photographers will not be issued media credentials unless they submit proof of employment/contract with a news organization. This could include a letter from a news director, editor or similar authority. NO business card or bylined articles will be accepted. The letter must be on original media organization letterhead and include a phone number of proper contact at the news organization if further information and clarification is needed.
4. Bloggers and other online reporters will not be issued a press pass unless they can provide documentation of substantial web traffic/viewership (Google Analytics Reports or other web traffic reporting tool) and their blog/online news source must be at least one year old. Each media credential request will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis and it is at the discretion of Cow Palace Management to grant the media credential.
5. Media passes are not available to high school or college journalism or photography classes. Passes are given to college newspaper staffs and are available to high school newspaper staffs on a case-by-case basis. An application must be submitted by the newspaper faculty advisor to be considered.
