Banquet permits cost $10 per day for your event, so, a three day events costs $30. Note that you will need an email address and a credit or debit card to complete this transaction. Security Information

As our application states, a minimum of 2 guards for 4 hours is required and covers the first 100 guests. Rounding your anticipated guest total up to the nearest 100 people, one guard for each additional 100 guests is required. A lead guard starts two hours prior to the event through the last person leaving. All other guards start one hour prior to the event through the event end time. Below is a chart to help you understand this policy. Larger events will require additional security and in some cases may require law enforcement to bolster security.

Event attendance	# of Guards	Total Price for guards per hour
0-100	2	$60.00
101-200	3	$90.00
201-300	4	$120.00
301-400	5	$150.00
401-500	6	$180.00
501-600	7	$210.00
601-700	8	$240.00

Note, the lead security guard will clearly be identified at the event and will introduce themselves to the signer of the building rental. The lead will begin their shift two hours prior to the event for introductions, setup, etc. They will also be the last one to leave the premises. You will be charged for any time past the planned end time for the security lead and any other security personnel. Security will be sent home, by the lead, when they feel the event is over and the security of attendees can be assured.

The Security Lead will be the primary contact by the renter as well as the fairgrounds staff and/or law enforcement or emergency services.

They will monitor attendance levels and, if the crowd reaches the planned attendance level, will notify the renter that attendance will be limited when projected attendance levels are reached plus 30 attendees. i.e. a rental application says 100 people will attend. When 100 people have entered the event the lead will notify the renter. When 130 attendees have entered the lead will limit entry swapping two leaving for two coming in.

If the renter agrees to increase the attendance then an additional security guard will be called in when the attendance reaches 30 over the plan. The renter will be charged the normal fee of $35 per hour. In some cases there may not be another security person available at which time the event will be limited to 30 over their planned capacity.

If the security lead determines that they cannot assure the safety of attendees due to intoxication levels, violence, etc then they will work with the renter to have the event shut down. At this time they have the option of requesting law enforcement assistance
