

Pasadena Rodeo Beauty Pageant Competition 2019

Pasadena Livestock Show & Rodeo 2019 - Expectations of Beauty Pageant Winners

Consequences of not upholding the standards and the expectations of the PLS&R beauty pageant may result in the termination of your title and ineligibility to compete in the future. In this event, the first runner up will take the place as the title-holder. At the time of termination, the award money (if applicable), sash, belt buckle, plaque, and crown shall be returned to the PLS&R office immediately. The first runner up will then be eligible to receive the difference in funds to total $1000.00 following her reign as Miss Pasadena Rodeo. For example, if the runner up received $350.00 in award money for placing as the first runner up and were then moved up, she would receive the remaining $650.00 when she crowns her successor. The same rule applies for the second runner up. If she received $150.00 in award money, then at the end of her reign, she would receive the $850.00 difference to equal $1000.00 total.

APPEARANCE: You are expected to maintain the appearance with which you won your title, including hair and makeup. For example, if you had blonde hair the day you were crowned, you are expected to maintain blonde hair throughout your reign. This helps people become familiar with you and recognize you at rodeo events.

EVENTS AND APPEARANCES: Winning a title for the PLS&R is a yearlong commitment with appearances throughout. Winners will receive a calendar of scheduled events; however, at times spontaneous events may arise. Punctuality is expected and repeated tardiness will not be tolerated. If there is a conflict in attending an event, the General Chairman or Assistant General Chairman must be notified within 5 days of the event. Otherwise, the absence will be considered unexcused and will result in a mandatory meeting with the Chairman. Repeated nonattendance (excused and/or unexcused) will result in termination of your title as determined by the rodeo executive leadership and the pageant committee leadership. Exceptions will not be made.

SOCIAL MEDIA ACTIVITY: All social media sites, in which the winner participates, must be maintained in a tasteful and appropriate manner. This includes language, content, and photography. Please be mindful of what you are posting and have posted in the past as you are representing the PLS&R. If asked by a PLS&R officer to remove any kind of derogatory or offensive pictures or comments, it must be taken down immediately.

BEHAVIOR IN PUBLIC: The winners are always representing the organization whether they are wearing their sash and crown or not. Therefore, all behavior in public must be of the highest standards of a young lady. This includes conversing with community members and PLS&R volunteers appropriately. Foul language will not be tolerated. Drinking alcohol, regardless of your age, as well as drug use while representing your title are not acceptable and are means for immediate termination. Additionally, public display of affection will not be tolerated at events, in your crown and sash, or at the rodeo grounds. You are representing the community at such events; this is not a time to hangout with your significant other.

All tattoos and piercings, other than ear piercings, must be covered at all times during events for which you are representing your title. Noncompliance will result in the young lady being given the option to change or leave.

RESPECTFULNESS: The winners are expected to be kind, courteous, and respectful to all PLS&R volunteers, leadership, and pageant representatives. Disrespect and poor attitudes will not be tolerated.
