“ From the contract process to execution, working with the Saffire team and product was enjoyable and easy. After much research, we realized that there were no other companies that could deliver the digital presence we were seeking for the new JeffCo Fair & Festival. Saffire was our only choice and the team went above and beyond our expectations. ”

(Meridian H) - Jodi Buresh, Saffire "I thought Boosting a post on Facebook would pay off"? If that's something you are confused about, we will explore the different options to Social Media Advertising and the risks and benefits of placing ads, boosting posts or riding the wave. We'll give specific examples of what worked, how much was spent and help you determine what's the best route for your event. Non-Traditional Entertainment—What's New? (Stratus 6) - Pat Wood, The Source Management Group Discussion Group—come prepared to share
9:30 to 10:15	Refreshment Break Sky Lobby
10:00 to 11:15	WORKSHOPS Its's an Activist World—Are You Ready? (Stratus 5) - Marla Calico, IAFE PETA, HSUS, ALF, DxE, ALDF, SHAC, ASPCA, FARM. What do you know about this alphabet soup of animal rights activists groups? Stop, Tell, Demand, Ask, Let, Join, Help. Did you know there are over 180,000,000 people "taking action" every day via just one on-line petition platform (and there are dozens)? Fairs are squarely in the target of animal rights activists because of the association with agricultural and other animals (especially in educational exhibits and attractions and rodeo events). But, other activists have clearly seen that the large crowds and heavy media exposure are the ideal grounds for getting their messages out, whether during fair time or non-fair events. The International Association of Fairs & Expositions (IAFE) has created the ARK - Activists Response Kit. In this session IAFE's President & CEO will not only provide an update on the work of activists and the shifts in their tactics, but also share some ideas on how fairs can prepare to respond and be proactive in their advocacy for agriculture. Entertainment Contracts (Meridian H) - Bryan Schulz, RRVF & Jamie Meyer, Romeo Entertainment Group What to watch for in your contracts and what you can get rid of. The Last Straw—Future of Biodegradables at the Fair (Stratus 6) - Derrick Gilday, RMYP
