The Addictive Fidget Spinners for Sale at the Sacramento County Fair

Sacramento, Calif., (5/9/17) – Fidget Spinners are the latest toy craze. Love them or hate them, they are all the rage with students, parents and even some adults that require an occasional distraction from their work. For those of you that are still unfamiliar with these devices, they are fairly simple: a small, two-or-three pronged trinket with a bearing in the center and circular weights on each side. To operate the toy, you simply hold the center of the spinner with your thumb and index finger, then spin it by tapping one of the prongs. You can usually find them in plastic or metal versions.

These spinners, originally touted as a tool to help students with ADD, ADHD, Autism or anxiety, have now caught on as a new global trend. The demand is so huge that numerous stores and outlets have sold out several times. Different versions of this gadget currently occupy every spot on Amazon’s top 20 best sellers list for toys.

If you haven’t found one yet, don’t worry, because this exciting new toy will be available to purchase at the 2017 Sacramento County Fair. “Indoor shopping at the fair is one of the largest retail venues available in Sacramento. We are thrilled to offer the latest and greatest gadget to our fair-goers this year. I have no doubt that it will be a huge hit,” says Pamela Fyock, CEO of Sacramento County Fairs. Various colors and styles will be available at many price points for purchase for the duration of the fair.
