

4-H Heifer Class 01	Class Placing	VSS ID #	First Name	Last Name	Club/Chapter	Ear Tag	Reason
Supreme Champion & Champion 4-H Heifer	1	12	Blake	Abercrombie	Santa Ana 4-H	009	This is arguably the highest performing female of the group, and reads the boldest and deepest in the sweep to her rib, setting the base for more mass and dimension up high. She could be a bit smoother about her shoulder and more feminine from there forward, and needs to plant with more flex to her pastern as she gets out and goes.
Reserve Champion 4-H Heifer	2	14	Braden	Wheeler	Santa Luica 4-H	11	This heifer hits you hardest from the side. She's super extended and feminine up front and sets down a stout set of feet and legs. I think her lower skeleton reads ideal, but she tends to pull her topline in motion and I'd ultimately like to make her a bit wider at her base, but the young lady does an excellent job of presenting this one.
	3	9	Bodie	Robinson	Pozo 4-H	008	This heifer reads very genuine and expressive in the shape to her rib and body and transitions back to an extra stout hip. I really like her stoutness of structure, but when pulled to lead she tends to duck her pins and reads with some extra set to her hind leg making her a bit more uncoordinated in motion. Lastly, I'd set her back in the angle to her shoulder to help her get a more comfortable reach up front.
	4	17	McKinley	Blake	Santa Margarita 4-H	010	This heifer strikes me as a truly moderate, easy keeping female who's bold through her center rib and deep back to her flank. She reads a touch flat behind a straighter shoulder and from there forward needs to be more feminine.
	5	1	Chase	Grantham	Creston 4-H	002	This is a very feminine heifer that balances up well from the side and I like how comfortable she is when pulled to lead. I'd like to give her just a bit more natural shape and dimension all the way through and set her neck a notch higher on her shoulder. She may be a bit green in this group, but I think she has plenty of potential as she matures.