TLC to hit the stage at the Santa Barbara County Fair

SANTA MARIA— With more than 70 million album sales, TLC is considered the “best-selling American girl-group of all-time,” with smash hits like “Waterfalls,” “Creep,” and “No Scrubs,” and this summer, they will bring their CrazySexyCool style to the Santa Barbara County Fair as part of the Bud Light Concert Series.

Tionne “T-Boz” Watkins, Rozonda “Chilli” Thomas, and the late Lisa “Left Eye” Lopes, owned the 90s with their fresh sound and fierce lyrics earning them four GRAMMY Awards, two RIAA diamond-certified albums among a total of four multi-platinum albums, 10 Top 10 singles, and four No. 1 singles. With a new album out that’s garnered many accolades, the ladies are picking up right where they left off.

“The Santa Maria Fairpark is thrilled to host TLC at the Santa Barbara County Fair. They are known for putting on an excellent show and we expect fans will be pleased with this performance,” said Santa Maria Fairpark CEO Richard Persons.

Their Santa Barbara County Fair performance is part of their most recent tour in celebration of their latest album. The self-titled album “TLC” is their fifth album and their first album in 15 years. Don’t let the long absence fool you though, their latest work still delivers the same smart, sassy, sexy vibes that fans remember.

The album launched with the single “Way Back,” featuring Snoop Dogg, and quickly earned 2 million Spotify streams with its bouncy, SoCal summer sound. The album earned acclaim from Time, Rolling Stone, Spin, and Pitchfork who claimed “Way Back’ is a fine way to kick off their hard-earned victory lap.”

“We kept the same recipe, which is strong lyrical content and talking about things that affect all of us. When you have time between albums, you have more to speak on. We talked about what was on our minds and hearts,” Tionne said about the album.

Chilli called the album a continuation of their evolution. “So much has changed since we first came out, but the issues that men and women go through haven’t changed. We love talking about that stuff, and there’s a place for it.”

Fair attendees can enjoy TLC in concert on July 12, on the KCOY Main Stage free with their paid Fair admission. The Santa Barbara County Fair runs July 10-14 at the Santa Maria Fairpark.
