Contest Rules

- Information can be found on the Virginia FFA website <http://www.vaffa.org>.
- This contest will be open to FFA chapters across the state. Schools are invited to enter one or two demonstrations. If two demonstrations are entered from a chapter, each must present a different demonstration topic.
- Demonstrations may be presented by either one individual contestant or a team of two contestants. (Note that awards are presented to ranked demonstration, not individual contestants.)
- Contestants must be active students in grades 6-12 the school term preceding entry in the contest. There will be two divisions: Division I will be students in grades 6-9 and Division II will be students in grades 10-12. If either member of a team is in or above the tenth grade level, the team will be considered Division II.
- No individual may present the same demonstration in successive years.
- No individual may present the same demonstration as presented in the horticulture demonstration contest.
- Presentations must be of a demonstration nature (actually doing something), not simply an illustrated talk.
- Demonstration topics may deal with agriculture within any of the following areas: Plant and Soil Science, Animal Science, Agricultural Marketing & Agricultural Business, Natural Resources Management & Environmental Science, and Agricultural Engineering.
- Fire, live animals and operational engines may not be used during the demonstration.
- Each demonstration is limited to 10 minutes. Following the demonstration, the judges (only) may ask questions of the contestant and only about the demonstration.
- A table, easel, and microphone will be provided. Contestants must provide all equipment and materials required for their demonstrations.
- Contestants must provide a sign (poster board) with contestant name, school name and demonstration title for display during the presentation.
- The contest will be limited to the first twenty teams/individuals to register.
